Adobe Acrobat Portable Document Format (PDF)

Most of the documents contained within this site are available in both Portable Document Format (PDF) and web based (HTML) formats. The PDF documents have been created using Adobe Acrobat 5.0 making them accessible and compliant with Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1998. However, these documents can only be viewed and printed using Adobe Acrobat Reader®, which can be downloaded free from Adobe

Adobe offers free services through Access.Adobe.Com to provide access for blind and visually impaired users to any document in Adobe PDF format. PDF documents are converted into simple HTML or ASCII text which can then be read by a number of common screen reading programs that synthesize the HTML as audible speech.

The following conversion options are available through Access.Adobe.Com:

1. E-mail the URL for a PDF document and receive HTML or text by e-mail

2. Submit the URL of a PDF document you would like to have converted
